Why work with DMS?

Following the launch of these newsletters, it's great to hear that lots of you are interested in our services, from open courses, in-house training and consultancy to executive coaching, PAC programmes and recruitment. One piece of feedback that we often receive from our clients is that we offer a great level of support, advice and guidance throughout all our programmes. You can be assured that our experienced consultants will be with you every step of the way, helping to ensure that you progress and get the result you deserve. Clients who commission in-house programmes find that we work very closely with them to develop training that meets the needs of their organisation. This ensures maximum benefit and return on investment.

See what Steve Buck from the Fire Service has to say below in this month's Success Story. If you're uncertain about what's right for you, and would like to chat in more detail to one of our consultants or would like more information, then just reply to this mail or give us a call on 0208 326 6200. If you would like some additional assurance, we're happy to put you in touch with one of our clients to put your mind at rest.

Starting your Programme

We run open courses throughout the year subject to demand. PAC programmes can begin straightaway so you can get your CIPD qualification underway without waiting for college courses to begin. If you have a few colleagues who are interested in attending together, an in-house programme represents excellent value for money and means you can get your team started whenever you like. In-house programmes can be CIPD or CMI accredited if required. Current programmes include:

- In-house training and development programmes – £ on request
- CIPD Membership PAC Programmes – £2950 to £5950 + VAT
- CIPD Certificate in Training Practice (CTP) - £1950 + VAT
- CMI Diploma in Management - £3450 + VAT
- CIPD Certificate in Personnel Practice (CPP) - £1950 + VAT
- CMI Diploma in Management Consultancy - 5th March - £3450 + VAT
- MSc in Strategic Personnel and Development - 18th April - £4950 + VAT
- Recruitment – various options available - £ on request

Development Means Success

This month's DMS Success Story comes from Steve Buck at the Royal Berkshire Fire and Rescue Service. Steve says "DMS were professional, supportive and understood my working environment. I would definitely recommend their courses to everyone particularly to other Fire Services looking to undertake training." Since completing PAC with us and achieving FCIPD Steve has gone on to successfully complete the MSc in Strategic Personnel and Development which he thoroughly enjoyed.
